While other park model companies “attempt” to do what’s right, Fairmont uses it’s 35 years of World-Class manufacturing experience to actually do it right.

At Fairmont, we recognize that a park model is more than just a camper or an RV. We understand that a park model is a vacation home away from home. That’s why we build our park models using proven housing methods like Cradle of Strength© construction to create the most durable, trouble free park model available.

In a Fairmont Park Trailer you can relax knowing that your home has 35 years of home-building experience standing behind it.
